Girl Wonders Score Sixth Successive Win Beat Unionville 12-7

MARJ. MCCARNAN DOES FINE PITCHING, VERA BECKETT STARS
WIN EVERY GAME

The Newmarket softball girls last night defeated Unionville by 12 runs to seven in a game called in the sixth inning, the sixth successive win of the season. Until time was called, the girls were playing well above the heads of their opponents, who had been making bad fielding errors. Fast-pitching Marj. McCarnan was twirling for Newmarket and Ruby Miller carried on the mound duties for Unionville.

In the first inning both teams scored two runs, Vera Beckett and May Brown getting the runners for the 'Websters'. Ruby Miller smothering out a four-bagger to get one of her team's runs.

The second inning proved to be the most productive one for Newmarket. McCarnan singled to start the proceedings and Myllis Osborne followed her with another one-bagger. Beckett sacrificed to advance the two runners and Brown singled, knocking in two runs. Brown and Lucy Andrews later crossed the plate when Unionville developed a nervous streak and some overthrows. Lois Manning came in to complete this five-run inning.

NO HARBALL GAMES WILL BE PLAYED NEXT WEEK

Owing to the Davis Leather Co. employees having next week as a holiday, there will be no games in the Newmarket hardball league. The teams will resume operations again on Tuesday, July 9, when the Sons of England meet the Office Specialty squad.

Unionville replied with one run in their part of the second, two in the third and two in the fifth.

Vera Beckett reached the centre field outskirt in the third inning and got a round trip from this wall. Margaret Hisey scored the only Newmarket run in the fourth. May Brown, Lucy Andrews and Lois Manning completed the scoring in the sixth.

The four-base blow by Vera Beckett was the best smash of the evening. Beckett also handled more tries than any other player on the field because the visitors took a fancy to her second base position and directed a goodly number of blows that way. Discounting a few errors, all the local players gave a good account of themselves. Helen Watson, the Unionville third baseman, played a bang-up game and managed to come in with two of her team's total.

Newmarket Boys Compete In Ontario Championships

BOTH BANDS SEEK CHAMPIONSHIPS AT WATERLOO ON SATURDAY

Newmarket's two bands will participate in the annual music festival at Waterloo, symbolic of Ontario band championships, on Saturday.

President Marshall Lyons' citizens' band, under the baton of Bandmaster Robert Moore, will compete in one of the higher brackets, Class C, for military (drums and brass) bands from towns up to 10,000 population. The Newmarket band won this class last year with 88 points.

About 32 bandmen will make the trip, but only 26 will be allowed to compete in this event. In addition Aubrey Bailey will compete in the saxophone solo competition, and Donald Cribar will compete in the cornet solo for boys under 12.

R.S.A. bugle band, under the leadership of Roy Rhinehart, Frank Smith and Wm. E. Andrews, and conducted by Instructor James Bradford, will take part in the bugle band event. They will be 50 strong.

POSTPONE PICNIC

The W.A. of the Anglican church have postponed their picnic, which was to have been held at Mrs. F. N. Chandler's cottage, Lake Simcoe.

Some of the members are taking part in individual bugling and drumming competitions.

The bugle band won two seconds and a third at Waterloo last year, losing out only to the Canadian Corps Signals band, and took first place in the individual bugling and drumming competitions.

As a special honor the R.S.A. bugle band will play on the platform in combination with the Chatham Killies and Waterloo brass band.

The two Newmarket bands may enter together the combination march event, although due to the two band nights they have had only limited opportunity for practice.

Framed Early Mother's Allowance Legislation

REV. DR. MCINTYRE PLANS TO TAKE YEAR'S LEAVE OF ABSENCE

With the resignation of Rev. Dr. D. McIntyre, as pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Newmarket loses a minister who was one of the pioneers of mother's allowance legislation on this continent.

Dr. McIntyre's suggestion for such legislation were adopted in Minnesota in 1907, when he was stationed at Moorhead, Minn. Later he was successful in persuading the state of North Dakota to adopt similar legislation. Mother's allowance legislation in its present form was first adopted in the United States in 1913, when several states passed legislation similar to the present legislation in Ontario.

A graduate of the University of Manitoba in arts and theology, Dr. McIntyre completed post-graduate work at the University of Edinburgh in 1906. He was born in Scotland.

He began his ministerial career under the northern Presbyterian church in the United States. He was for a number of years in North Dakota and Minnesota and was in the southern Presbyterian church in Georgia

Leaving his charge in Dublin, Georgia, Dr. McIntyre came to St. Andrew's church, Newmarket, in 1927.

Dr. McIntyre married a Canadian girl, during his early years in the states. Mrs. McIntyre was formerly Miss Ida Anderson of Almonte, Ont. Their daughter, Dr. Marjorie McIntyre, is practising medicine in Toronto. A Campbell McIntyre, their older son, is manager of the Northern Life Insurance Company in Toronto, and W. O. McIntyre of Newmarket, their second son, is with the Dominion of Canada General Insurance Co. Dr. McIntyre expects to leave Newmarket at the end of August. He plans to rest for a year before resuming work.

MAY RETURN HOME

Finding no better health in the west, Rev. R. R. McMath of Trinity United church is planning to return home soon, Mrs. McMath has written to a friend.

REDMEN SCALP AURORA 17-6 IN SECOND WIN

NEWMARKET'S HITTING POWER PROVES TOO MUCH FOR AURORA

LOWE DOES WELL

By RALPH M. ADAMS

Led by Tomlinson, who replaced Harvey Gibney in right field, Newmarket softballers went on a real hitting spree against their ancient rivals at the latter's park Tuesday night to pile up a total of 17 runs to Aurora's six.

Although the Aurora boys are by no means the worst ball players in the league, the bench strategy at times is weak. Lowe, who took up the hurling chore for Shore in the fourth, pitched well enough to win most games but the team simply didn't come through with the backing.

Glover, who rang up his third win of the season, was never in real trouble, due to the support he was accorded and his own ability to bear down in the pinches.

Reds Jump Shore Early Without wasting any time in preliminaries the Redmen hopped on Nugget Shore in the first canto and had the school-teacher in hot water from the time the first ball was hurled. The Redmen batted all around in their first appearance. Gilles, Hilton and Cain all got on.

Then Tomlinson, making his first appearance for the Reds, smacked a triple to centre to score the former three. Peters followed with a double to score Tomlinson. VanZant went out, but Wright singled to score Peters for the fifth marker. The Aurorans went out in order in their half.

Again in the second the chiefs took up the assault. Gilles, leading off, flied out to Lowe. Hilton got a life on Hodgkinson's error. Cain doubled to put Hilton on third. Tomlinson and Peters walked to force Hilton in with the sixth run. VanZant grounded to Birchard, who nailed Peters at second. Birchard to Hodgkinson, VanZant being safe at first. Again Wright came through with a single to score Cain and Tomlinson and Trivett went out. Holman to White. For the second time Aurora died in order, only six men facing Glover in two innings. The score at the end of the second read Newmarket 8, Aurora 0.

Not content with the score the way it stood, the Reds again renewed their attack on Shore in the third. Glover struck out to open the frame but Gilles got a life on White's error. Hilton promptly doubled to score Gilles. Cain was safe when Birchard bobbled. Tomlinson singled to score Hilton and Cain and took third himself. Peters sacrificed, flying out to Holman, with Tomlinson scoring. VanZant also flied out to Holman, to end the inning.

In the last of the third the Aurorans came to life to garner three runs. Holman walked to open the hostilities. Birchard singled and so did Hodgkinson, the latter's hit scoring Holman and Birchard.

Heaney flied out to Trivett but White got on when Glover erred. Hodgkinson scoring on the play. McComb got on through a fielder's choice, but Mchaniuk and Lowe passed away in order, and the rally was over. The score now rested at 12-3.

Lowe Heaps Shore In Fourth Jimmy Lowe took up the flinging burden in the fourth and the slaughtered Shore retired to right field. Although Lowe hurled good ball, the Red team touched him for five runs before the curtain came down on the proceedings. Both teams had barren fourth turns, but the big guns again came to the front in the fifth.

CAR TURNS ON ONE SIDE, THEN TO OTHER

In a car collision on Yonge St. Tuesday forenoon, Elton Armstrong, Armitage, and Chester Stoughton, Newmarket, had a remarkable escape from serious injury.

Mr. Stoughton suffered a few bruises and Mr. Armstrong was unscathed.

Proceeding north Mr. Armstrong had turned in toward the centre of the road to avoid a piece of broken glass, and had turned back, with the front wheels of his car on the right side of the centre line, when a car came over a crest and struck the back fender of his car.

Mr. Armstrong's car rolled over on its right side, then back upright, and then on its left side. No glass was broken in the car, but the back fenders and the back of the car were badly smashed.

The occupants of the other car did not suffer injury.

TWO GIRLS FOUND WAY TO HELP RED CROSS

In red, white and blue uniforms in a red, white and blue booth at the annual public schools exhibition these two girls, Marilyn MacLennan (left) and Marion Kees, members of John Purdy's grade VIII at Stuart Scott school, sold candy for the Red Cross. It was their own idea, for which Mr. Purdy secured Principal H. A. Jackson's approval. The candy was given by the mothers of members of Mr. Purdy's class and by Newmarket merchants.

YOUNG COUPLE TAKE OVER ARMY DUTIES

Captain and Mrs. Ernest Falle, just graduated from the Salvation Army Training College, Toronto, are taking over the duties of Adjutant and Mrs. S. G. Boulton, who are transferred to Mount Dennis. Captain and Mrs. Falle will be at the Salvation Army Citadel on Queen St. on Sunday.

"I wish to thank the citizens of Newmarket for their cordial reception of my work during the last year," said Adjutant Boulton.

FARM WORK OFFERS, ALLIES NEED HARVEST

Many farmers are now needing extra help for the summer, either by the day or by the month, and in view of the fact that there are several men in town at present out of work, W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative, would be very pleased to assist in securing farm work for those wishing it.

The nation needs to save its harvest and many farmers with-in a short distance of Newmarket need help, he said. Anyone willing to take on farm work is asked to call at the department of agriculture, 98 Main St., and leaves all particulars necessary.

The Ontario department of labor, in co-operation with the Ontario department of agriculture, has contacted about 300 town or city boys from 16 to 18 years, attending high schools or colleges, who are willing to work on farms for July and August. Farmers interested in help of this type should apply to Mr. Cockburn's office for further particulars.

CARE OF REFUGEES WILL BE STUDIED

Caring for refugee children will be the theme of a short course from July 2 to 26 at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Dr. G. E. Reaman, professor of English at the college, told The Era when he visited Newmarket on Saturday.

Family meal planning, food conservation, children's clothing, child care and training, and home nursing will be on the curriculum for the short course, intended especially for city, town and country girls and young women.

The Canadian Medical Association, the Canadian Red Cross and the Canadian life insurance companies are co-operating with the college in arranging the courses. Dr. Reaman hopes that Newmarket will be represented on the enrolment.

ONLY 25 LAID OFF IN SPITE OF HARD BLOW

BRITISH EMBARGO ON LEATHER IS BLOW TO TANNING INDUSTRY

SAVE EXCHANGE

Rumors that over a hundred men had been laid off were contradicted at the Davis Leather Co. offices today. Of a total payroll of 340 employees about 25 have been laid off. The Era was informed.

Nevertheless, the Davis Leather Co., together with other Canadian leather manufacturers, is hard hit by an import ban placed on Canadian leather by Britain. The purpose of the ban is to preserve gold and exchange. The embargo does not apply to other empire countries, which are on sterling instead of the dollar.

The action of the British government is a severe blow to the Canadian tanning industry," stated Aubrey Davis, president of the company. He said that other empire countries maintained credit balances in London which permitted Britons to deal with those countries without affecting the conservation of gold. Canada has no such credit balances, he said, because this country is not in the sterling bloc.

A meeting of tanning executives took place in Toronto this week. A statement issued, after setting out that their business was largely export and that in addition to the British market they had lost half their other export markets, said: "The meeting considered the possibility of submitting suggestions for relief from these United Kingdom import restrictions. The meeting also reviewed the situation related to the production of heavy leather in Canada suitable for military requirements so as to place its maximum production at the disposal of the Canadian government as required."

LITTLE'S RINK WINS FIRST AT UXBRIDGE

J. O. Little's rink took first place with high three wins at Uxbridge yesterday afternoon. Seventeen rinks took part.

The winning rink consisted of J. O. Little (lead), C. F. Willis, Al. White and T. F. Doyle (skip). Prizes were weather-proof silk jackets.

Another Newmarket rink, H. B. Marshall (skip), J. L. R. Bell, Herb. Whyte and S. R. Jones, had one win, but didn't get into the prize list.

There will be a mixed rinks tournament at the Newmarket greens on Monday.

York County Farmers Will Form Branch Of Dominion Federation

MEET HERE JULY 15 TO FORM FEDERATION OF AGRICULTURE BRANCH

HANNAM WILL SPEAK

The agricultural committee of York county council last week received approval from council of the steps taken by that committee to organize the farmers of York county as a local branch of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

The committee has called a meeting of representatives of all agricultural organizations in the county, to be held in the bugle band hall, Newmarket, on Monday, July 15, to discuss the matter and elect a provisional executive and board. Each organization has been asked to send in one officer and one elected or appointed delegate for this meeting at 2 p.m., D.S.T. Any interested farmer will be cordially welcome.

For some time there have been reports of the movement on foot by the farmers of the country to unite all farm organizations under one provincial and national organization, known now as the Federation of Agriculture, though formerly called the Chamber of Agriculture, because its function was to serve the farmers in much the same way as the Chamber of Commerce serves the industrial organizations of the city dwellers.

On April 1 at the annual meeting of the dominion organization, it was decided to adopt a more distinctive name, which would also indicate its nature and purpose.

The Federation of Agriculture is therefore a federation or affiliation of all agricultural organizations with a view to providing one body through which the farmers of the county, province or dominion can speak. The dominion federation embraces membership and representation on its board from all provinces except Quebec, the maritimes being grouped as one, and also several national agricultural associations. The Ontario organization now embraces 13 counties and York, if organized, will make 14.

The chief speaker will be H. H. Hannam, secretary of the United Farmers Co-operative Company, Toronto, past president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture and now president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. Mr. Hannam is well-known for his untiring efforts on behalf of the farmers and is a very able and well informed speaker. Mr. Hannam was at one time a public school teacher at Sharon.

Mayor Delays Appointment Of Part-Time Constable

APPOINTMENT IS REFERRED BACK TO TOWN COUNCIL

Appointment of a third or part-time constable has been referred back to the town council for consideration at its next meeting, which takes place Monday.

Councillor Wm. Dixon, chairman of the police committee, brought the matter before the council at its last meeting, and a committee meeting was held this week.

Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd and members of the finance committee met with the police committee. The police committee wanted to appoint Donald Elinas for part-time work, to relieve the night constable one night a week and to relieve Chief Constable Sloss for war work one day a week.

Dr. Boyd opposed the appointment on the ground that increasing municipal economy would be a necessity.

COMES FROM WINNIPEG

Douglas Earle will be manager of the Steadman Bros. store which will open here about July 19 in the store formerly occupied by the A. & P. company. Mr. Earle was formerly in one of the firm's Winnipeg stores.

HALF-CENT LOCAL RATE WILL BE DISCONTINUED

The half-cent rate for unaddressed printed matter distributed to local householders will be discontinued Aug. 1, L. P. Cane, Newmarket postmaster, informed The Era this week.

Gilroy, Mrs. L. C. Lee, Aurora, H. J. Luck, retiring president of the Newmarket club, R. C. Morrison, Wm. White and C. G. Walman.

COUNTY COUNCIL CANCELS 1940 WARDEN'S BANQUET

York county council, meeting in Toronto last week, donated $27,000 to war charities. They refused a grant of $50,000 to Mersey hospital.

It was decided to cancel the annual warden's banquet at the close of this year and to credit the saving effected to the patriotic fund.

The committees were given power to grant extra monies to the York County Children's Aid Society, if they were called on to look after refugee children from Britain.

SWORN IN AS LEADER OF VOLUNTEER GUARD

H. M. Gladman was sworn in as officer commanding Newmarket's volunteer civil guard by Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe in Newmarket police court on Tuesday morning.

Plans are proceeding for the civil guard, although some doubt exists as to whether the scheme will be adopted if the federal department of national defence goes ahead with its plan for conscription of a large home defence force.

CHILDREN AT PLAY, FRENCH TAKE WARNING!

The child-play of the Nazis in requiring the French to sign the armistice in the same railway carriage where Foch granted the Germans an armistice in 1918 brings to mind the fact that in 1919 the French made the Germans sign the peace in the same Hall of Mirrors at Versailles where the Germans had their triumph in 1871.

Thus does history repeat itself, and thus do we gather that German thought has not progressed beyond French thought of 1918-19. From this little incident we may assume that Hitler, if it should fall to his lot to dictate an European peace, intends to be just as vindictive as Clemenceau was in 1919.

There would be this difference. While France's harsh hatred of the Germans was slightly offset by Wilson's Fourteen Points, and, after the United States had repudiated Versailles, the impossible terms were gradually relaxed through British sympathy and German rebellion, Germany would have no soft-hearted allies to deter her from the intention of crushing France forever.

Nor is there any reason to believe that the Germans have in mind any new and enlightened plan for a more successful League of Nations which would ensure justice for all peoples and all races. Rather, it seems clear that Hitler intends a return to the military system of Alexander, of Caesar, of Napoleon.

It is said that Hitler may have given the French armistice delegates certain verbal assurances about the nature of the peace that he will impose upon France. There is no reason for the French to expect the fulfillment of such pledges (if any), for even the Allies of 1919 did not fulfil in the slightest Wilson's pre-armistice pledges to the defeated. And, as we have said, it was the French who stood principally in the way of fair treatment of the central powers.

If there is any tiny flickering bright spot in the French capitulation it is that when the Allies eventually make the new peace—and they eventually will—there will not be the clash of purposes that in the last peace spelt eventual disaster.

Either purpose might have succeeded had it had a chance. The French idea was to cripple Germany forever, to keep her disarmed and down, to keep her in economic and military servitude. The American idea, and later the British idea (after Lloyd George, his war-winning job done, had been repudiated) was to give decent, democratic-minded Germans a chance to make their country a peace-loving member of the world family of nations. A mixture of the two plans has proved a sorry failure.

When the Anglo-Saxon nations and their allies make this peace (the only tolerable alternative, and it now seems remote, is the rise of a democratic government in Germany) they will find time have a chance to fulfill the hopes of mankind for "the parliament of man, the federation of the world," unhampered by the spirit of revenge.

Oh yes, we know that people talk again of crushing Germany forever, but when the time comes their sense of fair play will cause them to think differently. The British and American peoples will seek a settlement of this war in a better League of Nations, a form of world government with power to enforce its decisions.

The plan of crushing a defeated foe has never worked yet. Such peoples as the Poles, the Czechs, the Slovaks have been crushed for centuries, but they rose again, and they will rise once more.

On the other hand ungrudging treatment of a defeated foe has almost invariably brought worthwhile results. In Canada generous British treatment of the defeated French is the cornerstone of this dominion. In South Africa generous treatment of the defeated Boers has not healed all the sores opened 40 years ago but has at least proved a fair success. To southern Ireland in 1921 Britain, after centuries of unsuccessful crushing and ruling, granted practical independence, and today Eire is lining up with Britain to defend itself against Hitler. Even before the final collapse of the Confederate armies of the U.S. civil war President Abraham Lincoln began to talk of conciliation and began to make things as easy as possible for the pride of the soon to be defeated southerners, with the result that today the United States is solidly united.

British greatness is built on the British capacity for compromise and consideration in the treatment of defeated foes and alien races—a genius for government learned in the one-time isolation of an island home. French bitterness, bred of a continental position, is foreign to the spirit of the British peoples. We are sorry for the French people today, but we believe that they can blame themselves.

British and American people too are paying today for our failures of the last 20 years, but we believe, all they ask now, all they are fighting for now, is the chance to repair their mistakes. The Nazis, on the other hand, we think, are fighting for the right to thrust upon the world new and more dreadful mistakes.

MR. KING NEEDED IN LONDON

Since Canada must share in the results of British foreign policy, Canada should have been sharing in the making of that policy during the last 20 years, and now should be sharing in the direction of the war through membership in a Commonwealth war cabinet or Allied war council.

During the last war Sir Robert Borden demanded a voice in British war policy and was taken into an imperial war cabinet. When the armistice came, Sir Robert demanded and was granted a seat at the peace table. He secured for Canada membership in the League of Nations.

With the retirement of Sir Robert and the rise to power of W. L. Mackenzie King Canada has taken less interest in world events. Sir Robert Borden's liberalism in foreign affairs has not flourished in the trusteeship of Mr. King. The King government has appointed ministers to Washington, Tokio and Paris, but the contribution to foreign affairs has been limited to a rebuke to Dr. Riddell, Canada's delegate to Geneva, for suggesting that economic sanctions against Italy (invading Ethiopia) should be extended to oil. Conservatives have to some extent continued in the tradition of Sir Robert Borden in the development of Canada's national status. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, when leader of the Conservative party, said that his party would never again send Canadian troops overseas until after the people had given their approval, although his party did not endorse that position. Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, as leader of the Conservative party, pronounced the doctrine of "Canada first" in economic relations with Britain, and was endorsed by the people.

Mr. King, we believe, was in the Borden tradition when he declined to permit, in peacetime, the establishment of a United Kingdom flying school in Canada. Mr. King is much criticized for that decision now, but that does not make him wrong. Our guess is that Sir Robert Borden would have made the same decision.

Canada and the other dominions should have membership in an Allied war council, for the Allied cause will have to depend to an increasing extent on help from the United States and the British dominions. There is evidence from time to time that British ministers and officials do not understand public opinion on the North American continent.

Not long ago Alfred Duff Cooper, who had the advantage of a recent visit to this country, in holding Hitler up to ridicule, said among other things that Hitler had not learned to drink alcoholic beverages "like a civilized human being." Last week a letter was cabled to Canada and the United States which had appeared in the London Times. It purported to be a letter which a young R. A. F. pilot had written, to be sent to his mother in case he should not return from a raid. Evidently he lost his life, and the British commanding officer who censored the letter asked the mother's permission to publish it. Presumably the British ministry of information released the letter.

Possibly the letter was faked. We would prefer to think that it was, for to our mind it expresses not the spirit of a typical British soldier but the much publicized spirit of Nazi and Fascist youth. The philosophy of the letter, which expresses a belief in war as a fine, ennobling thing, is repugnant to most North Americans and is poor propaganda. The letter said, among other things, "I still maintain that this war is a very good thing; every individual is having a chance to give and to dare all for his principle, like the martyrs of old . . . I have no fear of death, only a queer elation . . . Those who just eat, sleep, prosper and procreate are no better than animals if all their lives they are at peace . . . But with the final test of war I consider my character fully developed. Thus at my early age, with my earthly mission already fulfilled, I am prepared to die . . ."

It would also be interesting to know if Churchill's proposal to Reynaud for a union of the British and French "empires" had the approval of the various dominion governments. Canada might similarly make a proposal to the United States for a union of the British and American commonwealths. We like the idea of unions and federations of nations. It will come in some form. We cite this proposal, however, as another reason for full Canadian participation in the direction of the war.

What is needed is not to bring General MacNaughton home, but to send Mr. King to England.

CARRY ON, BANDSMEN!

During war-time there is a tendency to drop ordinary activities. Some are well dropped. Others are not. We noted the other day that a service club had dropped its welfare work in favor of patriotic work. That is commendable and yet is it wise? The welfare work remains to be done. No other agency is prepared to pick up the welfare work at such short notice. Children's health is impaired and possibly their big chance in life has passed. Our government will need and can use all the financial help the public can give it, but it is to be remembered that the war effort of the government is not limited to the amount of money that it secures by gifts and taxation. In addition, the government can and does borrow great sums to carry on the war—but needy youngsters cannot do that.

The town's two bands constitute an activity which we are glad to see go on. Newmarket Citizens' band and the R.S.A. bugle band are worth-while on three counts. They advertise Newmarket as a town where music is appreciated. They contribute to almost every other community activity. And, finally, they provide a fine form of recreation for a large number of the town's young men and boys. All Newmarket people are proud of these two bands and will hope that their leaders will carry on.

This Saturday both bands compete at Waterloo and we may be sure that, win or lose, they will stand high and give a good account of themselves and the town which they so capably represent.

We are waiting to hear that some youngster in current school examinations has written that the equator is a maginot line running around the earth.

The Common Round

THE PATHS WE TRAVEL

By Isabel Inglis Colville

I wonder if many people share my bewilderment these days, as standards which we thought the bulwarks of our civilization are contemptuously tossed aside, by a giant steel robot—heartless and conscienceless?

Most of us, even through the devastating days of the war of 1914-18, clung to the concept that "right is might," now we have to listen to the slogan "might is right," implemented by every weapon the Germans and Italians can bring into being and use.

Time was when we drove our country roads, and, looking at the fields with their promise of plenty to come, at the gardens with their rows of vegetables like toy soldiers standing at attention, at the flower beds and borders, and over all our blue, blue Canadian sky, and felt "summer is a glorious time."

We could think of England with her flowering hedges and rose-hung cottages, the people living out their orderly lives and spending a day or a week at the nearest sea-coast town.

We could think of Scotland with her heather-covered hills and glens that have echoed to the songs of the Jacobites and Covenanters alike, of her lochs where the silver salmon flash and her great forests where deer abound.

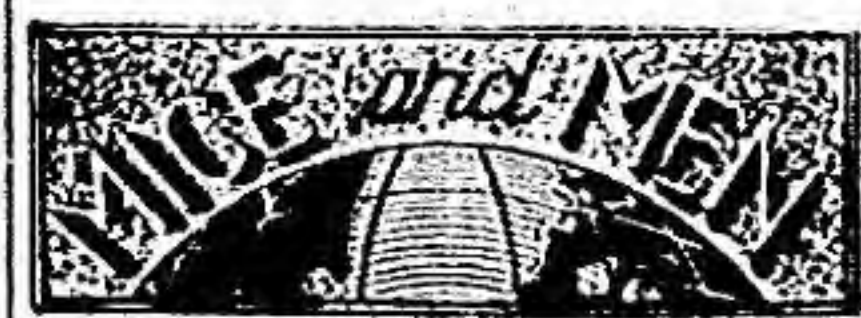

We could think of France—gay, delightful France—with her lovely boulevards and her people dining in the open at the close of day, of her art treasures and wonderful cathedrals.

We could think of Norway and Sweden with their deep fjords and towering cliffs, with their quaint towns and hospitable homes.

Of Holland with its windmills and acres of flowers, and Flanders and Belgium with their harnessed dogs and great horses, and where the poppies bloomed gaily—not between the crosses, row on row.

And in Germany and Italy in those far-away days, we knew people who went there to study music and art and medicine, and in Germany to sail the Rhine with its old castles and still famous vineyards, or who delighted in visiting the coliseum in the eternal city by moonlight and dreaming of the tragedies once enacted there.

We could think of all these things as we travelled through our own peaceful countryside, and it gave us a pleasant feeling of security—a feeling that this old world of ours was advancing along many worth-while paths. That daily and yearly men and women were making worth-while contributions to the art of living.

The French-German and French-Italian armistices became effective at 7.35 p.m. (Newmarket time) Monday, after the conclusion of a separate armistice with Italy.

Premier Benito Mussolini did not meet the French delegates. His son-in-law, Count Ciano, represented the Duce.

The Petain government proclaimed a day of mourning.

Premier Winston Churchill of Britain expressed amazement that the Petain government would sign an agreement with Germany which put French soil and French arms at the disposal of Germany for use against Britain. An official British statement called the Petain government "Nazi puppets" and declared that Britain no longer recognized the Bordeaux government.

Britain granted recognition to a committee formed by General Charles de Gaulle in London. General de Gaulle called upon French soldiers and sailors and upon the French colonies to fight on at the side of Britain.

General de Gaulle said that he had reason to believe that the French navy would carry on with the Allies. He also expected to be joined in London by ex-Premier Reynaud.

Britain made ready this week for a German blitzkrieg attempt against Britain. Canadian troops and aviators were among the defending forces who stood ready.

Britain and Italy carried on the war in northern Africa. Native Ethiopians were believed to be taking up arms against the Italians.

The Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice were welcomed at Ottawa last week. For the first time in Canadian history a governor-general was sworn in at Ottawa instead of at the port of arrival.

With the French collapse the Turkish government, British-

It is not so these days—for as we look at our own peaceful countryside we think of those other countries—England hedged in with steel barriers instead of blooming hedgerows, her coastal towns deserted save for the coast defence and those whose work keeps them there. Deserted are they by children and by sightseers—what sights there are are grim.

Scotland's hills and vales echo to the sound of the clang of the munitions factories as they thunder out their war song. France lies broken in body but not in spirit; Nazi soldiers fill her streets, and defile her holy places, but the soul of France lives on and will rise as it has done before.

Denmark and Norway, Holland and Belgium go sullenly about their work on their devastated lands.

No peoples who have been free submit to slavery willingly. The love of country, the love of home, of freedom of speech, religion and action is so deep rooted in free peoples that like yeast it leavens the whole mass so that it must rise again—stronger, deeper rooted and more sure of the rightness of that freedom than ever before. This western hemisphere of ours will soon be an armed camp too, ready to fight for the liberty which is our inheritance from freedom-loving ancestors.

Perhaps in the past our paths were too much the paths of peace. We gave too little thought to how dearly through the centuries those paths of peaceful living were hewn out and paved for our too often ungrateful feet to tread.

We did not cherish them and repave with newer ideals of rights for all peoples, soon enough. We may not have thought in broad enough terms of what constitutes a neighbor. We may not have been able to visualize a philosophy of life such as animates Nazis and fascists, because it is so diametrically opposed to our own.

We are, as never before, opening our eyes to the problems of the world and each one of us, I do not doubt, in his or her heart, is trying to find something helpful toward the time when our shattered world will be rebuilt.

We here, in Canada, are a small part of our great empire, but each Canadian has SOMETHING they can contribute towards winning the war, for just as every tiny grain of sand on the sea-shore helps to make the great beaches, so every helpful act of each individual helps to build up our great house of defence and offence.

We go forward on this thorny path with HOPE!

In the United States the Republican convention was in progress at Philadelphia. The dark horse, getting lighter all the time, was Wendell Willkie, young utilities president, who has fought the new deal but has been radical enough to say there had been much good in it.

The Democratic convention, meeting next month, is expected to nominate Roosevelt for a third term.

Apparently Italian armistice terms were very unpalatable to the French. Four days after the French asked the Germans for an armistice the Italians attacked the French. This needless slaughter was said to be for the purpose of making the Italians feel that they had won their victory with their own blood.

On Monday Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of finance, announced a budget that meant a heavy increase in taxation which was expected to bring the government $280,000,000 in increased revenue.

Most radical change was in income tax. Exemptions were reduced to $600 for a single person and $1,200 for a married person. The rate on the first $250 of taxable income was increased from three to six per cent. Other rates were increased accordingly.

THERE IS NO CHARGE FOR PRINTING PICTURES

There is no charge for news pictures in The Era. This newspaper is glad to have pictures and bears all expense of having engravings made if the pictures are suitable for publication. Generally speaking, snapshots do not make satisfactory engravings. An exceptional snapshot after enlargement reproduces fairly well. Photographers' pictures are preferable.

The Era is anxious to receive pictures of enlisted men, pictures of wedding couples, people who are marking birthdays, children, or any interesting pictures of northern York county people.

A BUSY MOTHER TAKES A FEW MINUTES OFF

BY RUTH DINGMAN HEBB

"Really, my dear, you're spoiling those children," remonstrated Young Chips, the Chickadee, to his mate, Merry. "You feel you have to give them something to eat every time they open their greedy little mouths, and it seems to me that they have them open practically all the time—except when they're asleep, of course."

"Nonsense," laughed Merry. "They require a whole lot of food to make them big and strong and my theory is that as long as they keep asking for food it should be given to them. They themselves are the best judges of how much they need."

"Ridiculous!" scoffed her mate. "You are far too indulgent. Give them so much and then stop. You wear yourself out—not to mention me, too—waiting on them."

"But just look how they're growing," said Merry, seeking to divert Young Chips from his complaint. "They're getting more feathers every day. In no time at all, now, they'll be ready to fly."

"There's one of your friends over in that tree, singing," Young Chips told her. "Do you want to slip over and have a chat? I'll see that nothing happens to the precious children. But I won't promise to keep them stuffed the way you do."

"I'll just go for a minute," said Merry. "And don't forget that you're on duty, will you? I have been working hard lately."

"Hello, Mrs. Yellow Warbler," Merry said to the other bird as she alighted beside her. "And how are your children?"

"Merry me," exclaimed Mrs. Warbler. "They aren't even hatched yet. Don't forget that I only finished my nest about three or four weeks ago. We have four lovely eggs, though, greenish white, with a wreath of dark spots on them."

"Oh, of course, I had forgotten that you are one of the lazy ones," said Merry. "You're almost as bad as the Cedar Waxwings and the Goldfinches."

"See here, don't say such dreadful things!" scolded the little Warbler. "I don't believe in building one bit sooner, and besides, loads of other birds agree with us on the time to build. The Indigo Bunting, the Rose-breasted Grosbeak, the Redstarts, lots and lots of our different Warbler cousins, and many other birds nest early in June. And you know as well as I do that the Goldfinches and the Waxwings nest late in June—foolishly late, I quite agree."

"I suppose I shouldn't tease you," smiled Merry. "You know best what kind of weather suits your babies. You didn't have any trouble with Cowbirds, I hope. I know how they love to lay in your Yellow Warbler nests."

"Thank goodness, they didn't pick on our particular nest this year," said Mrs. Warbler with a sigh. "I wonder what in the world that Robin mother is giving her alarm call so urgently for, down in the garden. It all looks peaceful enough."

"There are several different Robins cheeping in great agitation," Merry observed.

"I saw one Robin giving an English Sparrow quite a chase this morning," said Mrs. Warbler. "Perhaps there's another quarrel going on now."

"No, I see what it is," Merry suddenly lowered her voice to a whisper. "It's a horrible, slinking yellow cat down in the garden, sneaking along almost flat on the ground, with an eye on those birds. No wonder it has the parents of the community worried."

"Why, so it is," said the Warbler, peering anxiously down between the leaves of the tree. "The nasty prowling thing. How I hate the way they crawl silently about in the long grass. If it isn't one thing it's another—to watch out for, I mean. We birds really don't have much security, for all that people seem to think that we have an ideal existence."

"Quite true," agreed the Chickadee, "but I'm glad I'm a bird, in spite of the trials and difficulties of being one. We must just keep a stiff upper lip when trouble comes. And it certainly is nice to be able to fly through the air on a balmy blue summer day and flit about among the cool green leaves."

"Oh, my yes," Mrs. Warbler said. "I'm very happy to be a bird, too. Just listen to me sing. I'll move a little bit farther away from that cat, though."

Is Advertising A Good Thing?

We ask you seriously, Mr. Business Man, is advertising a good thing? Do you think that the business world could get along without advertising? Do you think that the low-priced automobile could be produced so cheaply without advertising? Do you think that clothes could be sold so cheaply without advertising to awaken people to a pride in their personal appearance? Do you think that so many trade-marked and nationally known articles could be sold so cheaply if it were not for the volume of sales obtained by advertising?

If advertising is a bad thing, or a poor thing, it is bad or poor in peace-time or war-time. If it is a good thing it is a good thing in peace-time or war-time. You may be tempted to show your patriotism and to do your economizing in a reduction of advertising, but would that be wise? Would you be really serving your country well by making that contribution to the slowing up of business?

Would you be serving your community well by letting your customers think that they could do better elsewhere, in another town or city? Would you be serving yourself well by letting the public think that you are no longer alert and aggressive like you used to be?

"Carry on," is the slogan of national advertisers, and "Carry on" should be the slogan of the local advertiser too.

POLICE COURT

RENTED IMPLEMENTS

SOLD TO FEED FAMILY

Two Newmarket youths, George Henshaw and William Thompson, were convicted on charges of theft of gasoline, when they appeared before Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe in police court Tuesday. Chief Constable James Sloss testified against the two.

"On June 16 at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, while patrolling with Constable Mount, I found an old truck of Henshaw's parked on Niagara St.," said Chief Sloss. "The accused, who were beside it, said that they had run out of gas. Henshaw said that he had bought gasoline at Hamilton's corner. After investigation, they were brought to the station and admitted stealing gas from the car of Mr. Woodward, Simcoe St. We have had numerous complaints about stealing gas, but this is the first time we have caught anyone. Henshaw has been in the court before on a charge of stealing copper wire."

Both the accused pleaded guilty to the charge. "I warned you the last time about picking things up that didn't belong to you," said his worship to Henshaw. "I sentence you to jail for ten days."

Thompson was put on probation for six months. "You watch out in the future," advised Magistrate Woodliffe.

Fred H. Scythe of Toronto, who was involved in an accident with Fred Pike of R. R. 1 King, was fined $10 and costs on a charge brought by Constable Ferguson of not having an operator's license. Pike pleaded not guilty to a charge of careless driving arising from the same accident.

County Constable Ferguson testified that his investigation of this accident showed that Scythe, who had been proceeding north on Yonge St., had smashed into a car driven by Pike, who was crossing the highway from the King City side-road. Scythe's car then overturned, injuring the driver on the left shoulder and left leg.

"I stopped a minute at the intersection for traffic," Pike declared. "I could see no car close by, so I crossed the road and had about a foot to go when Scythe's car bumped me." He said that a fog at that point made visibility poor. "There was little fog when I arrived," said Constable Ferguson. "Yes, but you came an hour later," replied Pike. "It had cleared by that time."

His worship said that the accused had a plausible case and he dismissed the charge.

Six charges of illegal parking on the Sutton main street were dropped when Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C., stated that the by-law forbidding this parking has not as yet been approved by the department of highways.

Gordon Smith of Pefferlaw, charged with the theft of farm implements from a farm owned by Victor Skinner of Sutton, was put on six months probation and required to make restitution.

"I left my property and rented it to Gordon Smith and left Pefferlaw to move to Sutton," Skinner declared. "I left implements there, a hay-rake, scuffer, fanning-mill, set of scales, three forks, a shovel, one cutter. I did not give Smith permission to sell anything but the fanning-mill. I later went to the farm and my implements were not there. I told Smith that I wanted the scales. He couldn't find them and said that someone must have stolen them. I recovered the hay-rake from the man he sold it to."

Constable Martindale testified that Smith had told him, when he was being brought to court, that he had arrangements with Skinner that allowed him to sell certain implements. "He said that he had no money for food for his family."

"I thought Skinner gave me permission to sell the implements," the accused declared. "I spent the money on food."

"There may have been some arrangement about the fanning-mill, but there were no arrangements between you and Skinner for the sale of the other articles," his worship declared. "I find you guilty." An additional charge of vagrancy against Smith was dropped.

Horace Lapp of Toronto, charged with speeding, was fined $13 and costs. Constable Shadwick testified that Lapp had been driving at a speed of 68 m.p.h.

"I hit the sign post with my right front wheel and went to the other side of the road," said Stanley Topham, of Lloydtown, charged with careless driving on highway No. 27. "I didn't know what happened after that."

"On June 8 at 10:15 E.S.T. in the evening, I investigated an accident on highway No. 27," said Constable "Gus" Farquhar of King. "I found a car overturned in the west ditch going north. The car had left the pavement, hitting the shoulder on the east side, broke a sign-post right out of the hole, crossed the pavement to a ditch on the west side, climbed up an embankment against a wire fence and hit and pulled out a telephone post."

"The damage was between $153 and $200. The accused had left the scene of the accident. I saw him the next morning. He said that he had left the accident because he was 'kinda knocked out and didn't know what had happened.' He must have been 'reled,' because the weather was good and the road dry."

Constable Fleury concurred with this evidence, adding that the ditch was muddy and slippery at the time of the accident. Topham was fined $10 and costs. Albert Loach of Toronto, charged with illegal possession of beer, was fined $10 and costs. Constable Williamson stated that he had found five pints of beer and an empty case in the Loach car. The beer was ordered confiscated.

Charges of speeding brought by County Constable Alex. Ferguson resulted in convictions for: James Cook, Aurora, $10 and costs; W. Stanley McGhie, Toronto, $10 and costs; Colin A. Cowley, Toronto, $10 and costs; John F. Wood, Barrie, $15 and costs; Glenville McDonald, Barrie, $5 and costs; A. B. McClelland, Toronto, $6 and costs.

Jack Denton, Toronto, charged with having no operator's license, Constable Ferguson, was fined $10 and costs.

LACQUER

By DELPHINIUM

In the years ago when our home was a sort of missionary rest home we heard many interesting stories from our missionary guests. These were all from China.

One lady told us of how beautiful a certain kind of Chinese lacquer is. Two ladies were guests overnight in a missionary's home. In the morning a kettle of hot water was left at their door for their morning's ablutions. While one washed, the other held the hot kettle, being afraid to set it on the beautifully lacquered floor or on any part of the furniture.

Later she learned it would not have injured the lacquer at all. It was the famous Ningpo lacquer. They thought this would be good to bring home with them when coming on furlough, but somehow it would not dry.

Recently I read about this lacquer. In southwest China grows the tree from which the lacquer comes. A tribesman gashes the lac tree and during the hot summer nights the sap will ooze out of the cut and he will return to collect this sap, which, when exposed to the air, forms a long, unbroken string. The varnish is so valuable the manufacturers are tempted to mix it with a cheaper oil. To test it, if a drop is dropped on paper it will not run. It has a smell all its own.

Color may be added, red and yellow being commonly used, but black is perhaps the favorite, though gold or silver powder may be used. I have a tray with golden lacquer. A brush or spatula may be used to apply the varnish and from three to 18 coats may be applied. Each layer must dry before applying another and while we would prefer a dry atmosphere, probably the reason the missionaries found this lacquer did not dry in America was because the air was dry. It will dry only in a damp air. If there are no clouds or rain about, then wet cloths are hung around so that the lacquer will dry hard.

After the lacquering is finished, there may be painted designs added or inset mother-of-pearl, which is cut from the inside of certain seashells. These lacquered trays, tables, screens, etc., go to furnish the homes of the well-to-do. I have a napkin ring and a ruler, black, with mother-of-pearl inset in patterns.

Last Wednesday afternoon, June 19, a meeting was held in the hall for Red Cross work done by the women of the community, in co-operation with the Belhaven Women's Institute.

Miss Eva Gilroy of Keswick and Mrs. Perry Winch were present, and very kindly assisted in getting the branch instructed in refugee work and other Red Cross garments, bringing patterns and instructions for the same. Twenty yards of material was purchased at Belhaven store and any who can help may do some of the sewing in their own homes. Next Wednesday, July 3, there will be another meeting in the hall in the afternoon for any who can attend.

The next Women's Institute meeting will be held in the community hall, Belhaven, on July 9. It had been planned to accept Mrs. Underhill's invitation to hold the meeting at her home at Willowdale, but at the meeting last Wednesday it was decided, owing to the busy season, it was best to decline Mrs. Underhill's kind invitation for the July meeting and to hold it in the hall.

The July program is as follows: roll-call, "salads for summer," community singing, grandmothers' meeting with Mrs. T. Horner, Mrs. Bales and Mrs. Lockie as convenors, paper on Canadian industry by Mrs. E. York, music, Mrs. Milton Hamilton, current events and contest, demonstration, antiques belonging to members, music by grandmothers. For lunch, ice cream and cookies, members please bring cookies.

Mrs. Alex. Wilson and her daughter, Helen, of 558 Balliol St., Toronto, visited at her sister's home in Belhaven on Wednesday, and on Sunday Mrs. Ross Cunningham and her two daughters, Robb and Margaret, and a friend, her son, Laurie, and a friend in khaki, visited Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Winch.

The weather has been cool and cloudy for several days. Friends are very glad Mrs. Walker Prosser has recovered from her recent illness.

"The Voice With a Smile"

BETTER and better mechanical equipment has played a great part in telephone service. But the human element—the men and women who make the equipment serve you so quickly and accurately—has been an all-important factor.

Telephone employees are your friends and neighbors, fellow citizens of your local community. Their most cherished aim is to provide telephone service that is efficient, speedy, and as nearly flawless as it can be made.

More than that—they lay great emphasis on courtesy, on being as helpful as they can in everything that pertains to your telephone. The famous phrase, "The Voice with a Smile" expresses their way of work and service.

Bell employees have made a great contribution to our sixty years of successful operation. It is to them in large measure, that Canada owes its world leadership in the use of the telephone.

MINISTER'S RESIGNATION

REGRETFULLY ACCEPTED
Dr. Andrew Hood preached in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church last Sunday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hood and by Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Hood, son and daughter-in-law.

At the meeting of Toronto presbytery, held Tuesday in Knox church, Toronto, the resignation of Dr. D. McIntyre was accepted with regret. One of the members thought that a three months' rest should be given rather than accept the resignation, but at the special request of Dr. McIntyre he was released.

Three representatives of the congregation were present and addressed the presbytery with well-chosen words and fitting sentiment. Allan Perks represented the session, J. M. Douglas the board of managers, and Mrs. Wood the ladies of the congregation.

Decoration day will be observed at Pine Orchard next Sunday at 2 p.m. standard time. The following services in the church will be conducted at 11.15 standard time for the summer.

The Presbyterian picnic will take place at the Royal Simcoe hotel grounds, Keswick, next Saturday afternoon.

The surprised bride-to-be was met at the door and escorted to a gaily decorated dais by Mrs. Mary Robinson, attired as an immaculate bridegroom.

All sorts of useful gifts were presented, and opened by Miss Scott, who bore the part imposed upon her quite courageously.

PUPILS DO HONOR TO REV. G. O. LIGHTBOURN

On Tuesday afternoon in the school playground pupils and staff of Aurora public school did honor to their friend and neighbor, Flight-Lieut. Rev. G. O. Lightbourn. Dr. C. J. Devins presided over the brief but fitting ceremony.

Mayor J. M. Walton made the opening address. "I don't recall any minister who has so endeared himself to all classes of people," he said. "We speak to you as our friend and we shall miss the comradeship of a real man among men."

Bill Seaton then led the school in the salute to the flag. Principal John G. McDonald told of the many incidents he recalled of the kindness and forbearance of Mr. Lightbourn. "We have enjoyed these ten years past the care of a guardian angel in the person of the rector of Trinity church," said Mr. McDonald.

The gift to Mr. Lightbourn, he said, was the spontaneous suggestion of the children themselves. Roy Robson and Norma Hickson, on behalf of the school, presented Mr. Lightbourn with a prayer book and Bible, inscribed from the pupils and staff of Aurora public school on the outside and bearing Mr. Lightbourn's name in gold lettering on the covers.

The school choir sang "Onward Christian Soldiers," under the direction of Illyd Harris. J. H. Knowles, principal of Aurora high school, and ex-Mayor Dr. C. R. Boulding also paid tribute to Mr. Lightbourn.

"I love the girls and boys of Aurora," said Mr. Lightbourn. "They are so typical of all the things our empire is now fighting for—freedom, Christianity and individualism. The books will remind me of you all ways, and you all will be mingled in my prayers. They are fitting presents to anyone at such a vital time in our history, for the Bible is the keystone of the empire. I hope, too, that you will not forget me in your prayers. Do not be downhearted ever, or despair of our success."

The gathering closed with the singing of God Save the King.

Era printing costs little.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Zephyr field day saw honors go to Aurora in the men's section and Newmarket ladies annex the ladies' softball prize. With only six regulars available Len Simmons drafted Harry Sutton.

"Nibs" Saigle and Cy. Holman into action. Lowe pitched the first game against Unionville, winning with ease. Peterboro meanwhile took Mount Albert 10-0. Alex. Webster and Bill Burkholder linked forces with the Aurora boys and formed a battery which mowed down the Poles 6-3 in the final.

Newmarket ladies whipped Lindsay in the feminine final to round out a perfect day for Alex. Webster. Cy. Holman, incidentally, is reputed to have shown up well enough to warrant his seeing action in the Simcoe league. Herb McKenzie has returned to the fold and should prove a tower of strength to the Aurora team in the league play-offs. Herb is a first baseman by trade, and a good one, too, but Wilf. White has been playing a bang-up game at the initial sack and McKenzie will shag them down in the field.

Owen Sound received a distinct loss to its sporting fraternity this week with the announcement that Father Jack Spratt was to be transferred to the parish at Amherstburg. Father Spratt was the coach of those famed Greys teams of over a decade ago, which won provincial honors. This year he was with the Sounders' entries in the intermediate series, composed mostly of Owen Sound boys.

They had the real support in the Georgian Bay city over the pampers Greys, who were not very popular with the fans. However, there was real drama behind the scenes as Father Spratt was gradually pushed aside by the highly paid, imported coach, Pinky Lewis. Greys, incidentally, are reputed to have lost close to four figures in bucks on the season's play. Father Spratt will always be remembered in the Bruce peninsula for the harmony and spirit he was able to infuse into his players.

Gordon Taylor, Jr., the ace of the Summit golfers, might easily have annexed the Ontario title this week, which was played over his home course, as he knew practically every blade of grass on the Summit lay-out.

Taylor, we understand, demurred, however, at playing in a tournament during war-time. He is taking an officers' training course and will likely don khaki soon.

Reckrama was out at Dufferin on Saturday, but could do no better than finish fifth for the Cosford stables. Jockey trouble is given by those in the know as the reason, all of which was a big disappointment, for the horse would have paid off in big figures any place in the first three.

Newmarket Redmen appear to be definitely slated for first place in the final standing, as they took the locals with ease on Tuesday. They should be in shape by now to give Barrie the works.

Tomlinson, who was with Sutton last year, played right-field for Trivett's tribe, and he really rounds out the fielders and adds considerable polish, too. We think he's the best fly-chaser in the league and potent with the willow too.

?? How can they be so good one night and so bad the next, and why does it have to be against Newmarket? That's what's puzzling Len Simmons and the Aurora fans. Individually, Aurora are as good as the canal-towners, but go higher than a kite when they face their old rivals. Confident the two teams will meet in the finals, Simmons has adopted as his motto, it can be done, and next game might be a different story if they meet again. One thing, at least, Aurora can't play much worse.

Errors told the story, plus bad judgment by the outfielders, who needed bicycles to snare ordinary hits, which went for looping hits. Hodgins and Birchard were particularly flagrant offenders in the field. Glover pitched steady, if not brilliant, ball, but got himself into the hole on several occasions with some erratic fielding. His support was air-tight, especially in centre-field where Herb Cain trotted around like a two-year-old as he picked the pill off at angles. Seven hits was the Aurora total, with Frank Michanuk's homer being the only extra base clout, and it was really a pipperoo, as it sailed over Luck's head in deep right.

The week end of the batting order picked off three hits as Birchard, Hodgins and Pinch-hitter Lyall Sparks each got a hit. McComb and Shore got the other two hits. It was a family affair as Sparks went to bat in place of his brother-in-law, Wes. Henney.

Joe Spillette made the lucky draw for the program prize and pulled three phoebes in a row. Brn. Pattenden got first prize with 1465. Joe, incidentally, kept warbling "Old Man River" to himself all night as the Redmen kept rollin' along.

Ace's Juniors held a swell party at Preston's Lake last night and drew a fair crowd and some fair sort of weather. Harvey Fingold is reputed to have taken down first honors in demolishing hot dogs, but there were plenty for everyone. Tomorrow night the kids tackle Sisman's and Rouse will do the hurling for the shoemakers. We hope he'll open up and not pull his punches as he appears to have been doing, as we would really like to know just how good he really can pitch. "Ace" Yake this time next week may be sporting the plaids of the Toronto Irish. If he's not it won't be because he hasn't tried enough or hasn't passed the medical.

occupied the chair. The meeting opened by singing the Institute Ode and repeating the collect, followed by silent prayer, then led by the president and all joining in the Lord's prayer.

The usual monthly business was then taken up. There were a number of letters of thanks from sick and shut-ins. Two more pairs of pajamas and two pairs of socks were handed to the Red Cross convener, and more work was spoken for.

Splendid readings were given by Nora Graham and Douglas Graham. Mrs. Stevenson read an interesting paper on a Canadian industry, telling of some of the uses of pulpwood.

Mrs. Ralph Willis gave a brief report of the district annual held at Keswick.

A large bouquet of iris was given to the Institute by one of the members, and was presented by the president to the oldest lady present, Mrs. Wells.

The meeting closed with singing God Save the King. The hostesses served tempting refreshments and a social time was enjoyed by all.

Anyone wishing to help with Red Cross work, whether a member of the Institute or not, may do so by applying to the convener, Mrs. J. Petch, or if anyone wishes to contribute to the Red Cross fund, they may do so through Mrs. J. Wright, secretary of the Women's Institute. The Institute is working with the Aurora Red Cross society.

SNOWBALL W.I. HONORS TWO PROMINENT MEMBERS

The Women's Institute meeting held at the home of Mrs. John Morning last Wednesday afternoon was largely attended. A very interesting talk was given by Mrs. Leonard Hall and Mrs. William Davidson on "Keeping the perennial border in bloom." Discussion followed.

Another interesting feature was the presentation of prizes to the winners of the poster contest on the "Preservation of Wild Flowers," sponsored by the W.I. organization.

The winners were: intermediate, Norman Teasdale, Patricia Smith; grade II, Daniel Beaulieu, Marie Casey; grade III, Marie Morning, Doris Mitchell.

The W.I. was very fortunate in procuring Miss Ruth Webb of Toronto, teacher of art, as adjudicator. Great credit is due to the local teacher, Mr. Stoddard, who trained these pupils in this work.

One of the highlights of the afternoon was the surprise presentation to the president, Mrs. Ed. Reddick, and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Ernest Copson, who are carrying on these offices under great pressure for another year. More Red Cross work was planned for the coming weeks.

The Institute picnic is being held at Bayview on July 9, with Kettleby and Snowball, to make it a successful outing. All hope the weatherman will do his part.

Young Beverley Nell received a severe cut on his temple and serious concussion on Thursday evening. He was driving the cows home for early milking and in some way got mixed up with a bicycle, fell and received this injury.

He was rushed to Dr. C. R. Boulding and had three stitches put in his forehead. The concussion has been relieved, but he has not been able to tell what happened to him. His father, who was severely burned by a lightning stroke some time ago, is well again.

Eversley strawberry festival took place, as announced, on Thursday evening at the attractive Elliott farm. Owing to the cold winds the tables were set in the bright sun-rooms, and the delicious strawberries were enjoyed in comfort.

Tarpaulins were hung across the north of the lawn, but in spite of all, the people felt the cold. The program, which consisted in the play given by the Schomberg Young People's society, two solos by Mrs. Howard, and the four Campbell girls of Kinghorn, in their highland dances, was given from the verandah.

The play "The Absent-minded Bridegroom" was a whole evening's entertainment, under the direction of Mrs. Lister. It can be commended to any group desiring a good evening's program. In spite of the cold there was a good attendance, a bountiful supper and good entertainment.

The Ferguson re-union was held on the grounds of the Cedarvale school—a school for underprivileged girls, belonging to the United church, in Georgetown, on Saturday. A hundred or more members of the clan assembled. Many who formerly were present were absent and others were there for the first time. It was an ideal day, cloudy, fairly warm, and no rain.

The tables were set on the wide campus, and later a program of sports was conducted by the secretary, John A. Ferguson. There was a sing-song and several songs by the 17 schoolgirls, who delighted the audience with their sweet singing and perfection of detail.

A prize was given to the oldest married couple, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ferguson of Mitchell. The prize for the largest family went to Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Ferguson and their eight children.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burrows were present from Stayner and are still guests of Mrs. Gellatly, and from there are visiting the cousins and places of old memories in this neighborhood.

HILLERS AND REDS TIE 7-7, SOUTH RALLIES

By RALPH M. ADAMS

Fighting back, to score six runs in the fourth and sixth frames, the Richmond Hill aggregation eked out a tie with the Newmarket Redmen last Thursday night on the local diamond, the battle ending seven-all.

The Redmen gained the lead in the third when they batted home six counters, apparently to put the argument on ice. However, the Hillers were far from out of the ball game, as they staged real come-backs in the latter innings of the game to pull up even at the end of the affair.

Reds Slack Early Lead

In the first the Hillers went out in order. Although Saul garnered a walk and Bennett singled they died on as Cochrane died. One run rewarded the locals' efforts in their half. When Giles got on Hilton fanned but Cain doubled to centre to score Giles. Gibney and Peters died in order.

Both teams were "goose-egged" in the second with the south boys tallying their first in the third. Dyke, first man up in the third, slapped out a single, but the next two men died. Saul got a life through an error and Bennett came through with his second hit to score Dyke and tie the game.

Then came the Redmen's deluge that spelled retirement for O'Dell from the mound. Niles opened the inning with a single to right, Giles walked, Hilton bunted and was safe, filling the bases. Cain fanned, but Gibney and Peters singled in succession to clear the sacks.

Welch beat out an infield hit to again fill the stations. Wright fanned, Trivett following with a single to left to score Gibney and Peters. Niles beat out an infield hit that scored Welch. Giles fanned to end the inning. The Reds after this outburst displayed a six-run balance on the credit side of the ledger.

The Hillers, after the Redmen's spurge in the third, looked to be outclassed but they were far from it. In the fourth they went after Niles' scalp, with Findlay rapping out a single to start the fireworks. Echlin followed with a double and Mabley, batting for O'Dell, also came through with a one-bagger to score the former two.

Dyke got on through an infield error, Mabley scoring. Crean and Brockbank died in order but Saul beat out an infield hit to score Dyke. Bennett flied out but the damage had been done and the Hillers were within striking distance of the Redmen's lead.

Teddy Bennett, he of slow-ball fame, took up the hurling chore in the fifth, Mabley going to right field. Only ten batters faced Bennett in the three canters he spent on the mound, and he gave up but two hits, a double by Cain and a single by Peters in the seventh. Cain, however, was tagged at the plate, trying to score on Peters' hit, so Bennett shut the locals out of the run column.

While Bennett held the Reds in check, his mates helped materially by pounding home two more counters in the sixth when Dyke fanned. Likewise did Art Crean. Jimmy Crean, batting for Brockbank, came through with a rousing double and Saul, who followed, picked out a home-run ball and plastered it into right centre to score Jimmy Crean ahead of him. Bennett fanned but the old ball game was tied up, with one frame to go. Neither team could garner a marker in the last inning, so both teams had to be satisfied with the split in points.

On the Hill squad Bennett and Saul with their all-round play stood out, with Echlin running them close on his smart work behind the plate. Cain was the big gun of the locals with three hits, closely followed by Gibney, Peters and Trivett, whose timely hitting accounted for half of the Red runs. Welch making his first start of the year in the receiver's shoes caught a steady game.

Richmond Hill: A. Crean cf, Brockbank rf, Saul 2b, Bennett rf-p, Cochrane ss, Findlay 3b, Echlin c, O'Dell p, Dyke 1b, Mabley (batted for O'Dell in 4th, played right field for Bennett), J. Crean (batted for Brockbank in 6th).

Newmarket: Giles 2b, Hilton ss, Cain cf, Gibney rf, Peters 1b, Welch c, Wright lf, D. Trivett 3b, Niles p, VanZant (batted for Welch in 7th).

Umpires: Holman (plate) and Forhan (bases).

ADAMS

Despite their old age and infirmities the Redmen are still moving right along in their quest for the 1940 crown of the Simcoe league.

Off to a good start last Thursday night, the Reds eased up a trifle, and, coupled with a few miscues, the Hillers managed to come back to tie up a contest that looked like a sure thing for the Webster clan.

However, a tie and win in two starts is "nae sa bod," for any outfit in this league at this stage of the season.

The Aurora squad are fated for tough luck, as our friend would have us believe, in every engagement with the Redmen this season, but we notice that none of the games have been close. The Reds have always managed to win by the odd 10 or so counters.

Jimmy Lowe, who hurled a real effort for the south squad Tuesday night, certainly wasted a first-class performance because of the fielding support given him.

I suppose that air-tight fielding we heard about must have leaked some place because one only has to look at the score to come to that obvious conclusion.

Apparently the weakest spot on the Aurorans is the strategy used by the bench at times, particularly the other nite, when they should have started Lowe against the Reds instead of Shore; from their previous experience they should know the markies have the hurling school-master's number.

The Aurora team are not the weak sisters of the group by a long shot and will make plenty of trouble before the play-offs are over if the bench will give the boys plenty of the old grey-matter.

At the present time, Davis Leather are in the driver's seat of the local town league hardball group after defeating the Office Specialty last Tuesday nite.

The encounter was another close one (as all the games have been) with the tanners having one big inning when they batted all round to ring in seven runs and nose out the furniture lads 7-6.

Kaus, the ace southpaw of the Specialty squad, hurled good ball but the one fateful inning spelled defeat for him, while Mickey Smith, throwing them up for the leathermen, was steady throughout.

One fact this column would like to know is why hasn't the Specialty management pitched Johnny Vandenberg against some of the opposing teams. This boy has plenty of speed and control, so why make Kaus work every game.

Along the grapevine . . . If the weatherman doesn't decree some warm weather pretty soon your old grapevine will be frozen up. . . If our pal and colleague doesn't know the residence rule of the league he'd better brush up on his reading.

As for hurling Ecclestons, Turner, or what have you, in your backyard, it would be perfectly O.K. if those mentioned were in residence in the district by the date specified . . .

The statement that the players this column mentioned would have to play with Sutton if that town were entered is absolutely correct . . . No doubt both these boys would be glad to play on the northern team, if they had one . . . What are you trying to do, give me the old razzle-dazzle that it doesn't get in your hair? If the matter doesn't, why mention it then . . . Don't tell me it's your sense of feeling for the other outfits in the loop . . . Bill Haskett, the secretary for the town hardball league, is slightly on a spot these days . . . Bill works at the Davis Co. and plays in the bugle band . . . When both entered the league, Bill had to decide who he would play with . . . He chose the leathermen and now the buglers call him "Fifth Column" Haskett and roast him plenty at practice . . . Incidentally he is in second place in the batting race behind the buglers' first baseman, Preston . . . Preston will be lost to the buglers for the rest of the season as he has signed up with the Toronto Irish Regiment . . . About the two players who have apparently been dropped from the Redmen's roster to make room for our two so-called gate-increasers, any of you fans may find out from the management . . . That is if you really want to know badly enough. So long.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Green, who are working in Picton for the summer, motored home for a few days last week, visiting their parents.

Mrs. Leeman Hicks and family of Picton were guests at the home of Mrs. Hicks' sister, Mrs. Leslie Nelson, for a few days.

PEPPER AND SALT

By "PEP"

One of the hardest working men on the Office Specialty hardball club is Pete Neufeld, the third sacker. You can rib Pete, and he'll survive. You can throw him a slow ball and he'll miss it, but throw a fast one and like as not he will hit it. Whatever happens, he always maintains his savoir faire (English translation on repeated and insistent request).

In a game against the bugle band, when Pete was caught sleeping on first base and tagged out, he blushed an obliging red and then promptly forgot about it. He keeps a steady head on the field, and, so I am told, everywhere else. Pete is a good acquisition to the Office Specialty club.

Supposedly the weak sister of the league at the start of the season, the Davis Leather team is now at the top of the heap. The breaks are coming their way, but a league like this may take a turn any day. Few of the outfield men on any squad are very sure at judging a fly ball. That has to come with steady practice, for it takes more time to make a good outfielder than it does to develop an infield man.

In case you didn't know, Joe (Muscles) Medwick, purchased on July 12, at a price estimated at from $100,000 to $250,000, by President Larry MacPhail of the Brooklyn Dodgers, from the financially pressed St. Louis Cardinals, has a pet superstition that causes him to touch third base on his way from left field to the dugout.

Some insight into the florescent MacPhail character is provided by "Newsweek" in its issue of June 24. MacPhail is the father of major league night-ball. He tried to capture the Kaiser, with seven other conspirators in 1919, actually got into his Dutch palace, but got no farther.

Says "Newsweek": Pitcher Paul Derringer, reminiscing on MacPhail's days in Cincinnati, recalls the bonus plan withardonable satisfaction. One day, so the legend goes, Derringer had failed to slide home, for which omission MacPhail slapped on a fine of $250.

"Why, I was out by 20 feet!" wailed Derringer in the clubhouse offices. "I didn't want to risk getting hurt."

MacPhail's reply was unprintable. It got under Derringer's skin. He picked up an inkwell, let it fly at his boss, and grazed a MacPhail ear.

Gasp! Astonishment, MacPhail said: "Whv, Paul! You might have killed me with that thing!"

"That's what I was a-trying to do!" Derringer snorted. "O.K.," said MacPhail, wiping his brow. He buzzed his secretary and drew a cheque. "Here's $750—$250 to offset the fine and a $500 bonus for missing me!"

A MacPhail in our hardball league would be an expensive proposition.

The softball girls haven't lost a game in four tries this season, which is almost a reversal of their record at this time last year. They have improved practically 100 per cent in a year's time. Last Saturday at Zephyr they defeated Lindsay Supremes, who had whipped them handily in the same place last year. In heating Toronto "Dorsts" they trimmed one of the best city aggregations. Manager Alex. Webster thinks that they are about due for a loss, but he isn't praving for it.

Alex. is happy over winning that first prize purse in Zephyr Saturday. Speaking over the wireless or rather over the wires about it, he said: "I won't say how much we won."

Lately, Johnny O'Connor hasn't done too well in his fistic encounters. Monday night, in the main bout of the Toronto Sporting and Athletic club's 12-bout card, Johnny was in bad way and lost the decision. Archie Smith, a popular Hamilton welterweight, did the damage.

HUSBAND, WIFE WERE CHURCH TREASURERS

"I was glad when they said unto me let us go unto the house of the Lord."

This verse from a psalm used by Rev. C. E. Fockler in the dedication service at Ravenshoe United church a week ago Sunday keynotes the history of the devotion of a small congregation.

Mr. Fockler read a short history of the church. On May 31, 1932, a contract was let by a board of trustees, John Holborn, John Nichols, Joseph Glover, William D. Glover and Thomas Glover, to Henry Groves of North Gwillimbury to build a church 23 by 38 feet.

A contract for seats was let to another man for $200, the material to be furnished by the trustees, the job to be completed in four and a half months.

On Feb. 12, 1877, a contract was let to William S. Ramsay of Sutton West for new seats at a cost of $17, to be finished and installed in one month. The old seats were sold to the Free Methodist church at Drytown after the new seats were installed.

On July 30, 1877, the ground on which the Ravenshoe church was erected was transferred in a deed from Thomas Glover to a board of trustees, George Holborn, Robert Smith, Charles Speck, William Daniel Glover and Henry Glover, in trust "to be used and possessed in unity by the said trustees and their successors at any time appointed as a building site for a building known as Ravenshoe chapel for public worship, Sunday-school and the advancement of Christian knowledge, accretion; to the true intent and meaning; of the Holy Scripture but not for any other purpose whatsoever."

On Feb. 17, 1921, the trustee board of Ravenshoe church bought a piece of ground from Henry Smith running east parallel with the lot deeded by Thomas Glover. Then during the year 1921 the trustee board of Ravenshoe church decided to remodel the building by moving it to the east on the church property, building a cement wall under the church and a new entrance lobby, and adding ten feet to the length north from the choir loft.

In 1930 the trustee board remodelled the church shed as it now stands on the northwest side of the church property.

The dedication service was for windows and pulpit furniture donated by the late Charles William White in memory of his wife, Annie Stephens.

Mr. White was a member of the board of trustees from May 13, 1919, until his death Sept. 26, 1939.

Mr. Fockler spoke of the number of years Mr. White had been treasurer of the Methodist church board and, since union, treasurer of the United church board, and also of the long period Mrs. White served as secretary-treasurer of the Methodist church ladies' aid and later of the United church W. A.

Mr. and Mrs. White were a great help to the neighborhood and thought a great deal of the church, Mr. Fockler said.

Unveiling of the two memorial windows was done by the two executors of Mr. White's will, George White unveiling the window in memory of his brother, Charles W. White, and Hilary Stephens, Toronto, unveiling the window in memory of his aunt, Mrs. White.

Mr. Fockler dedicated the windows and the pulpit furniture, and preached an inspiring sermon.

KESWICK W.C.T.U. WILL PRESENT PINS TO YOUNG FOLK

Rev. C. E. Fockler assisted at the anniversary services at Brougham United church on Sunday evening. Three churches of different denominations have been united there. Mr. Fockler is a former pastor of the Christian church there.

Because of the fact that Mr. Fockler was assisting at the service at Brougham, there was no evening service in Keswick United church on Sunday.

The Keswick Women's Christian Temperance Union met at the home of Mrs. Perry Winch on Thursday, June 20. Mrs. Vaughan gave a very interesting report of the W.C.T.U. York and Peel county convention, which was held in Toronto.

It was planned to purchase pins for the following, who have tried temperance examinations successfully for five years: Eulah Pollock, Gerald Pollock, Donald Winch, Gordon Winch and Lillian Marritt.

A shower was held at the home of Mrs. Perry Winch on Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Gordon McEachern, formerly Miss Nellie Hamilton. A large gathering of ladies and girls from Keswick and vicinity gathered to wish Mrs. McEachern happiness in her married life. The gifts that were given her were lovely and varied. Mrs. McEachern thanked those present in a charming speech.

Aunt: "A dictionary."

YORK FARMS TESTED LACK PHOSPHORUS

In the report of the agricultural committee presented to York county council last week the following outlines were given of the soil, crop and livestock improvement projects in the county:

The soil survey, which had been requested by county council for two years, was started in the autumn of 1939, together with a soil testing campaign in which the soils department of the Ontario Agricultural College, the county council, the rural school teachers and the agricultural representative co-operated. Approximately 500 farmers turned in over 2,000 soil samples.

Practically all samples showed a phosphorus deficiency, with the samples from heavier soils having a fairly satisfactory potash level. There were very few showed an acid reaction requiring lime and most samples were well up in magnesium and calcium.

The potato investigational work commenced in the Mount Albert district by this committee in 1938 and continued in 1939 has at the request of this committee and the agricultural representative, W. M. Cockburn, been taken over by the federal and provincial departments of agriculture, and the scope of the work has been enlarged to include plots to test varieties, nutritional problems, methods of spraying and cultural practices.

In addition to the plots, a potato expert from the O.A.C. is also supervising six demonstration acre fields within a radius of 6 to 8 miles of the plots, overseeing the planting, spraying and digging of these acre lots to compare with the potatoes grown by the owner of the farm. A field meeting will be arranged to visit these fields during the summer.

The committee is pleased to report that under the direction of the agricultural representative crop projects are being conducted by the County Crop Improvement Association in practically every rural municipality, testing hybrid corn, oat varieties, barley varieties, fertilizers, hay and pasture mixtures. The association in addition to holding a seed fair, held a series of five wartime production meetings during the first week of March, with a total attendance of over 400.

During the winter and spring months, the agricultural representative arranged for nine groups of farmers from all parts of the county to visit a packing plant to study the marketing of hogs. With an average of 57 in each group a total of 506 had an opportunity to familiarize themselves with live and rail grading of hogs, as well as to study the processing of this product.

YOUNG MAN KILLED, FOUND UNDER AUTO

Ralph Westgarth of Udonia was found dead underneath his overturned car on the Georgina township line near Pefferlaw early Sunday morning.

It is believed that he had fallen asleep at the wheel. The car turned over several times and landed in a deep ditch. It was badly wrecked.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Westgarth of Udonia, Mr. Westgarth was 26 years of age.

He had been employed on construction work at Camp Borden and was returning home at the time of the accident. He was found by two passing motorists, Clayton Reinhardt of Udonia and Clarence Bradshaw of Pefferlaw. Constables William Hill and Archie Shadwick of Sutton investigated. Coroner Dr. O. M. Beattie was called.

Feature fielding plays were provided by Hodgins in the second frame, McComb in the fifth and Norris of the visitors in the sixth. Hodgins' play was a masterpiece, as Taylor hit one a mile minute, to deep short, which Michaeluk tried for but missed and which "Hoppy," playing "doublestop," snared and tossed swiftly to first to beat the runner. McComb playing close in the centre garden nearly misjudged a long fly from the bat of Hines, but took it over his head for a round of applause. Norris went deep into left-field foul territory to grab a line-drive from Jim Lowe on a beautiful running catch. White had a homer in the first inning, which he made only by some fast sprinting. McComb emulated Shore's four-bagger also in the fourth to cross the plate standing-up.

Marshall drew a walk to open the game. Norris popped to Michaeluk. Gracy singled to send Marshall to third, but Urry went down swinging and Laking rolled to Shore. Aurora started with a bang: Heaney beat out a bunt. White homered to deep left field. Lowe singled, and took second on Michaeluk's bunt, which went for an out. Shore walked. Lowe stealing third and scoring. Urry let the ball get away from him on a pitch to Birchard. Birchard flied out and Coulsen mowed down Sparks. Barrie went down in order. In the second, Aurora getting a run in their end of the inning as McComb doubled and came home on White's single after two were out. Norris got a hit off Shore in the third with two down, but Lowe took Gracy's drive nicely to end the inning.

After Michaeluk went out to start the fourth inning, short to first, Shore homered to centre, Birchard singled and went to second as Sparks was passed. Birchard went to third and Sparks to second on a wild pitch by Coulsen. Tommy scored as Hodgins went out at first. McComb homered to bring home Sparks too. Heaney popped out to Hines. Barrie got their lone run which incidentally was unearned as Coulsen went all the way around as the Aurora infield tossed the horseshoe to the four winds.

The collegians made a valiant stand in the Aurora half, cutting off two Aurora runners at the plate as it seemed the locals would really pile up the count. Two other Aurora base-runners were left stranded on the sacks in this inning.

Barrie failed to get a man on base in either the fifth or sixth sessions as Shore kept things under control pretty well. Gracy, who was now on the rubber for "Smitty's" scholars, gave a hit each to both Heaney in the fifth and Michaeluk in the sixth, but they both were left out in the cold as the defence forces of the visitors rallied to Gracy's aid.

The seventh and final chapter saw Laking open up with a single, to be forced at second by Coulsen. Taylor singled and Birchard allowed Hodgins' attempted play on Coulsen at second to get away from him. Coulsen took third on a play. Couse sky-hied to Shore, who froze the ball and Hines' roller to short forced Taylor at second to end the game.

The crowd was kept down by the cold weather, which evidently suited the homesters but not the visiting nine. The game was played in good time, taking a little over an hour and finishing in plenty of light despite threatening clouds.

SMITH GIVES ONLY 4 HITS TO ENGLANDERS

Tight pitching featured the Davis Leather 4-3 victory over the Sons of England in last Friday's fast-ball encounter. Mickey Smith, on the tannery pill-box, allowed only four hits, struck out five men and gave two bases on balls. Stan Evans issued ten hits, struck out 11 men and gave five bases on balls. Smith had an edge in the pitching department and hurled a steady game.

The tanners scored two runs in the first, one in the seventh and one in the tie-breaking eighth. Sons of England scored one in the fourth and two in the sixth.

Stan Evans almost won his own game with a walloping three-base hit in the sixth inning. However, the Davis men were hungry for their first win and they deserved the nod.

In the eighth, with both teams fighting for the winning run, Stan Evans threw wild to brother Charlie behind the plate, allowing Ned Tansley to come in with the clincher.

This was another fine game of hard-ball and stars were impossible to single out because every player gave everything.

Davis Leather: Smith, Haskett, W. Haskett, H. Peppiatt, Edgar, Tansley, W. Townsley, J. Drury, Turan.

Sons of England: VanZant, D. Gibney, C. Barker, C. Evans, S. Evans, Langton, Williamson, Germain, Watts.

DAVIS TANNERS TAKE LEAD WITH 2ND WIN

By JACK PEPIATT

Davis Leather broke into the lead in town hard-ball when they scraped out a win over the Office Specialty on Tuesday night, seven runs to six. The tanners are now the only two-game winners, although they have cut their victories thin, by scores of 4-3 and 7-6. Almost every hit scored was a clean one.

Until the fourth, only the Specialty had counted, getting two runs in the first of the third. Then the tanners went down their whole line-up in the fourth to come out with seven runs and the game.

Wim Harden, who came in for Peppiatt, singled to left field, Hawk Haskett walked and then Jack Dreury blasted one to an uninhabited spot to send in Harden and Haskett. A single by Bill Haskett, double by Smith and a double by Tansley followed.

Then Kaus, who was pitching in a disconcerted fashion, fed the fattest ball of the evening to Turan, a fast one on the inside, and the mighty mite gave it no mercy. He got a triple and was knocked in when Harden doubled to centre field. Hawk Haskett, next up, was the third man retired in this frame.

The Specialty came back in the fifth, scoring four runs. Ben Wilson started the action with a sparkling double to centre field. Murray Boyd then singled and Kaus doubled to send in Wilson and Boyd. Hooper singled and was knocked in with the fourth run by pinch-hitter Jack Hamilton, who lobbed a puzzler over Tansley on third base.

Scoring ended in this inning. The Specialty threatened in the seventh, but were stopped by steady pitching from Smith. It was the best game of the season for heavy and clean hitting.

Office Specialty: Innis, Craddock, Neufeld, Wilson, Boyd, Kaus, Hooper, Vandenburg, Hisey (Hamilton).

NAZARENE CHURCHES SHOW INCREASE OF 45,000

After participating actively for ten days in the world conference of the Church of the Nazarene at the Sooner state capital at Oklahoma City, Okla., Rev. H. V. Muxworthy, Nazarene delegate from Newmarket, arrives home this week.

Local Nazarene congregations are waiting for return of delegates to hear reports on assembly developments that vitally affect all church members, particularly of the expansion program outlined just before the 10th general assembly adjourned.

Attendance at the assembly surged past the 7,000 mark. More delegates and visitors attended the sessions than there were Nazarenes in the world 32 years ago, and members agreed the assembly was the best ever held.

The assembly closed with united and fervent prayers for world peace, for success of churches of all denominations, and especially for conversions of many thousands of souls at Nazarene altars during the next four years.

With the church in an expansion program, leaders confidently expect the number of Nazarenes to pass the 250,000 mark before the next general assembly. In the past four years the church grew from 130,000 to more than 175,000.
